After a successful return in 2021, we are happy to invite you to the 2022 Transformer Life Management Conference (TLM) in Bad Gögging. Since 2006 the TLM is a forum for experts, engineers, manufacturers and exhibitors that exchange information necessary for long operation times, high dependability and low maintenance and failure times of transformers.

The approx. 20 speakers are operators, developers and manufacturers, who like to share their experience and scientists, who present their research activities in diagnostics and material science. Topics are new insulation materials, diagnostic measurements and their interpretation, continuous monitoring and asset management, recent developments in the energy sector as well as research and development.

The exhibition with approx. 25 exhibitors provides additional room for discussions.

Practice-oriented workshops are offered on both days.

Topics:

- News from committees and standardisation
- Diagnostics
- Asset Management
- Sustainability
- News from research and development

The conference language is German. For our international guests, translators for German/English and English/German are present for all presentations and subsequent discussions.
